IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

A wide-angle photograph of the Steveston waterfront in Richmond, British Columbia. The scene shows a series of wooden piers extending into the water. In the background, there are several buildings, including a prominent blue and white two-story house. A restaurant with a red awning and a sign that says "Sockeye Salmon" is visible. People are walking on the piers, and a person is seen in the foreground on the left. The sky is clear and blue.
